Bruce Walters, CRM, NS

Bruce is the Director of Records Management at AECOM, a global engineering firm. He began his career in Document Control on an engineering/construction project in Saudi Arabia in 1979, wrote the first Records Management Policy for Morrison Knudsen in 1988, and 45 years later is still at it. He is a five-time former president of the Boise Valley Chapter of ARMA, at one point nicknamed the Permanent Past President, and is currently the president of NIRMA, the nuclear RIM association. He earned his CRM in 1993 and Nuclear Specialist designation in 2018.

David McDermott, CRM, FAI

David has over 40 years of records management experience and is a Certified Records Manager and Information Lifecycle Governance Consultant (ILG). He specializes in developing and implementing legally compliant information management programs for international companies, banks, and government entities. Currently, he provides strategic direction and consulting for global companies' records retention schedules. Previously, David worked as a Project Manager and ILG Consultant at IBM and has managed records programs for notable organizations such as the Federal Home Loan Bank of Seattle and Blue Cross of Idaho. An industry thought leader, he has served as President and Chairman of ARMA International, where he received the Distinguished Service Award, and has contributed to privacy law and electronic discovery. David is also a member of the Institute of Certified Records Managers.
